Education Priorities:

Elementary to High School

Program / Project Description:

As the preeminent leadership development program for girls, Girl Scouts offers every girl the opportunity to practice a lifetime of leadership, adventure, and success. Based on time-tested methods and researched backed programming, the Girl Scout Leadership Experience (GSLE) is entirely girl-led and developed to meet a girl's definition of a character driven leader. The inclusive, all-female environment creates a safe space where girls can try new things, develop new skills, take on leadership roles and just be themselves. The West Side Girl Scout Leadership Center (WSGSLC) serves as a hub for the following programs; Girl Genius Tutoring Program, Gamma Sigma Pearls(TM), Gamma Sigma Girls(R), Camp Metro, In-School and after school collaborations. The WSGSLC has a long history of utilizing Abraham Maslow's Hierarchy of Needs to engage families and offer beneficial adult learning courses to caregivers so that a girl has the support system in place to succeed.

As a result of COVID-19, GSSWT has made a number of changes to its programming including; providing virtual programming for patches and badges, altering the schedules for Camp Metro and our Girl Genius Tutoring Program to accommodate longer school breaks throughout the school year as well as providing a safe space for girls to compete their virtual learning while their parents are not at home. Research shows that the sudden switch to remote learning in Spring 2020 wiped out academic gains for many students across the United States and widened racial and economic gaps, therefore intensifying the achievement disparities across income levels and between white students and students of Black and Hispanic heritage. Continual or limited school shutdowns in Fall 2020, pushing students to virtual learning, could not only cause disproportionate learning losses for these students--compounding existing gaps--but also lead more students to drop out. This could have long-term effects on today's children, as well as long-term economic well-being on the U.S. economy. The digital divide, parents working, lack of support at home and learning disabilities all play a significant part in the quality of education being received while students must still learn in a virtual capacity while communities move into COVID-19 recovery. In lieu of offering our traditional 8.5 week summer camp, GSSWT has changed its model to accommodate the schedule changes of numerous school districts within San Antonio to now offer one week of Camp Metro in October, one week in January, two weeks in March and four weeks in June and July. This change will allow for the WSGSLC to be available to girls who are now on a year-round calendar for school which includes a longer school year as well as longer breaks more frequently.

Additionally, GSSWT has made drastic changes to its Girl Genius Tutoring Program because of school district changes. In order to best serve the girls participating in the program and to ensure they have a safe space to continue their academics while schools are closed, GSSWT is now offering the Girl Genius Tutoring Program Monday-Thursday from 7:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. Programming will be offered from 7:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. for girls who are participating in school virtually and need a safe space to work or for girls who are on a hybrid schedule at school (a combination of virtual and in-person learning). Our traditional Girl Genius Tutoring Program will be offered from 3:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. for girls who are attending school in-person and need a safe space to be after school while their parents are at work. The program will continue to be administered at the West Side Girl Scout Leadership Center (WSGSLC) at no cost to participants; most of whom are economically disadvantaged as defined by the Texas Education Agency. Regardless of the time a girl is participating in the Girl Genius Tutoring Program, our goal is to help reduce the education gap at a much slower rate for at-risk girls by giving them a stable environment to work in with the necessary tools and support to successfully complete their coursework.

GSSWT respectfully requests funds from the Harvey E. Najim Family Foundation to offset the cost of operations of the West Side Girl Scout Leadership Center so that we can continue to offer these programs free of charge to the community. Funds would also be used to continue support of the Take Action component of the Gamma Sigma program where girls will earn the "I Took Action with Gamma Sigma!" patch which includes the Najim Family Foundation logo.

Evaluation Plan:

GSSWT uses quantitative pre- and post-surveys to measure leadership outcomes identified by the national Girl Scout Research Institute. These nationally defined outcomes are measured for all GSSWT programming: a strong sense of self, positive values, seeking challenges, fostering healthy relationships and taking action to make the world a better place. GSSWT utilizes resources made available by Girl Scouts of the USA to produce surveys to specifically evaluate the outcomes of the Girl Scout Leadership Experience. Clients are also asked to provide qualitative evaluations of programs and services. Programs such as Gamma Sigma and Girl Genius have additional methods of monitoring progress by tracking attendance at sessions, periodic checks of report cards (when made available by girls/schools) and utilizing academic and behavioral data provided by the UP Partnership.

Plans to sustain project beyond the term of this request:

GSSWT continually seeks individual, foundation and corporate support to provide quality Girl Scout programming to an increased number of girls.
